

The fibre install journey

First meeting & application

Once you've decided to be part Britain's digital future, we'll help you through the application process and be there every step of the way

Building survey

We'll send an expert to your building on a day that's best for you, to conduct a survey and decide on the best full fibre solution

Survey return & review

We'll send you a survey pack and review it with you to make sure you're happy with the bespoke solution offered for your building

Ready to order

Once the build is complete and signed off, your tenants will be able to order an FTTP product of their choice as our network is open to all providers

On site fibre build

Our fibre engineers will bring the fibre into your building from the street, then cable up your building as shown in the survey

Wayleave signing

If you're happy with the survey we'll provide you with a wayleave to sign so we can start the upgrade. There's no obligation to sign or commit before this stage
